INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Divas Who Win Freedom Center, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Divas Who Win Freedom Center, Inc. (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2024, and 2023, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Divas Who Win Freedom Center, Inc. as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Divas Who win Freedom Center, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"); this includes the design. implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Divas Who Win Freedom Center, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Divas Who Win Freedom Center, Inc. internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.

- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate that raise substantial doubt about Diva's Who Win Freedom Center, Inc. ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Activities

Divas Who Win Freedom Center, Inc. (the "Center") is a nonprofit exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Center, located in Athens, Georgia is a nonprofit organization that empowers underserved women in the community that are at risk, or in recovery from, substance use disorder and sex trafficking through advocacy, education, and intervention. The Center is governed by a volunteer board of directors (the "Board").

Basis of Accounting and Presentation

The Center follows accounting standards set by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"). The FASB sets accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

Accounting Pronouncements Adopted

In June 2018, the FASB issued ASU 2018-08, Clarifying the Scope and the Accounting Guidance for Contributions Received and Contributions Made. The amendments in this update provide a framework for evaluating whether the transfer of assets constitutes a contribution or an exchange transaction. This amendment also provides additional clarification as to whether or a not a contribution is conditional. The Center adopted ASU 2018-08 in 2019. There was no material impact to the financial position, statement of activities, or net assets of the Foundation as a result of implementation.

Net Assets

Net assets, along with revenues, expenses, gains and losses, are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, the net assets of the Center and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

- Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions – Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and may be expanded for any purpose in performing the primary objectives of the Foundation.

- Net Assets with Donor Restrictions – Net assets subject to donor-imposed restrictions. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, such as those that will be met by the passage of time or other events specified by the donor. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature, where the donor stipulates that such resources be maintained in perpetuity.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist primarily of money market accounts and other short-term cash investments. The Center maintains interest-bearing cash deposits at a financial institution that may at times exceed the federally insured limit. For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Center considers all short-term, interest-bearing deposits with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Contributions

Contributions received are recorded without donor restriction or with donor restriction depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. Net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restriction upon satisfaction of the time or purpose restrictions.

Support and Revenues

The Center receives substantially all of its revenue from Federal/State grants and individual and business donations. The Center recognizes contributions and grants when cash, securities or other assets; or an unconditional promise to give is received. Conditional promises to give, that is, those with a measurable performance or other barrier and a right of return, are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend have been met.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment with a cost greater than $1,000 are recorded at cost or at estimated fair value at the date of the gift. Minor additions and renewals are recorded as expenses in the period incurred. Major additions and renewals are capitalized and depreciated over their estimated useful lives. Depreciation is calculated using straight-line methods. Estimated useful lives are as follows:

Computer Hardware and Software	3-5 years
Buildings	15-40 years
Furniture and Fixtures	5-7 years
Leasehold Improvements	15 years

Use of Estimates

Management of the Center has made certain estimates and assumptions relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities to prepare the financial statements in conformity with GAAP. Assets results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Center is recognized as an organization exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3).

The Center annually evaluates all federal and state income tax positions. This process includes an analysis of whether these income tax positions the Center takes meet the definition of an uncertain tax position under the Income Taxes Topic of the Financial Accounting Standards Codification.

In the normal course of business, the Center is subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited on the basis of square footage, payroll, or other relevant bases.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Center's financial instruments that are exposed to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents and receivables. At times, cash and cash equivalent balances exceed federally insured amounts. The Center believes it reduces risk associated with balances in excess of federally insured amounts by maintaining its cash with financial institutions with sound financial standing. If liquidity issues arise in the global credit and capital markets, it is at least reasonably possible that these changes in risks could materially affect the amounts of reported in accompanying financial statements. Management continually monitors receivable balances and believes that its exposure to credit risk is limited.

Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated subsequent events through the date of this report, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

NOTE 2 – GRANTS RECEIVABLE

For the year ended December 31, 2024, grants receivable consisted of $804,936 for general support. A discount was not considered material by Centers management for grants receivable at December 31, 2024.

The estimated future cash collections for grants receivable at December 31, 2024 are as follows:

2025	$804,936
	$804,936

NOTE 3 – PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment as of December 31 is summarized as follows:
